LiNCHigher is part of a national programme called the UniConnect project, and is funded by the Office for Students which aims to increase the number of young people going into Higher Education. Higher Education is defined as University, Higher Degree qualifications at College or Degree Apprenticeships. The programme is run across most schools and colleges in Lincolnshire.

LiNCHigher consists of a consortium of partners. Here in Lincolnshire this includes Bishop Grosseteste University, the University of Lincoln, Boston College, Lincoln College, Bishop Burton College, the Grimsby Institute, Grantham College, Stamford College (part of the Inspire Education Group) and Lincolnshire County Council.

Your school have signed up for us to delivery the programme, working with your teachers and careers lead, to make sure that it is fun, educational and supportive of your needs and future career aspirations.
